

Traversing walls

by Olympic Gymnasium Services

Transform an unused space into a fun & challenging area...

Traversing walls are becoming increasingly popular in primary schools, and it's easy to see why...

What are traversing walls?

Traversing walls take an existing unused wall and turn it into a fun and challenging area for children. They comprise foot and hand holds fixed to the wall at intervals, which the children use to 'traverse' from one end of the wall to the other. They are quick & easy to install, can be used to provide varied challenges, and help improve fitness, dexterity & co-ordination.

Challenge your children

Traversing walls provide a fun activity at break times, and also provide the opportunity for more structured challenges. The holds can be supplied in different colours & designs such as shapes, numbers and letters. These can then be used to challenge the children, for example by moving across the wall using only one colour, or by using the letters or numbers in order.

Keep it fresh

The holds are screwed into secure anchors, but can be easily removed to increase the gap from one hold to another, or moved around to different positions on the wall to further vary the challenge.

Make the most of your space

Traversing walls can be installed onto most existing exterior or interior walls, or panels can be installed onto a wall or fence to form the base for the holds to be fitted to. The walls or panels can also be painted in a variety of colours to further add to their appeal.

We can also supply freestanding climbing wall modular frames, which can be assembled indoors in a variety of shapes.

Safe & easy

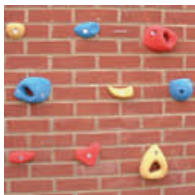

As the foot holds are below the minimum critical fall height, traversing walls do not require safety surfacing and the children do not need to wear any protective equipment.

We can normally carry out the whole installation in one day, which minimises any inconvenience during term time, or we can carry out the installation during school holidays.

Once installed they are easy to inspect & maintain to ensure continued safe use.
